

RESILIENCE is the ability to persevere, adapt, & grow in dynamic or stressful environments.

The Suicide Prevention Coordinator and Suicide Intervention Officers, are tasked with helping in the Military's efforts to build a strong and resilient community, which means knowing and sharing resiliency practices taught in suicide prevention trainings.

Seeking help is not a sign of weakness; it is a sign of strength. All of us are responsible for the care of ourselves, and battle buddies.

Mission of the Suicide Prevention Program

One suicide is one too many.
Our goal is to improve resilience and readiness through the development and enhancement of the Suicide Prevention Program; thereby preserving mission effectiveness through individual readiness for Service Members, their Families, and Military Division civilians.

Our Training Programs

APPLIED SUICIDE INTERVENTION TRAINING (ASIST)- ALL MILITARY

Applied Suicide Intervention Training (ASIST) is a two-day course developed by living works education. The key learning objective is awareness of the person at risk concerns, caregiver tasks, and development of intervention skills using an internationally known suicide intervention model.

SUICIDE INTERVENTION OFFICERS (SIO) - ARMY

SIOs are responsible for assisting with building a “resource network” within their unit. Per National Guard Bureau mandate, there is to be one SIO, for every 20 soldiers, in every Company, Battalion, and Brigade, who has been selected and appointed on orders. This role will also help in a soldier’s civilian career and can range from the rank of SGT to MAJ.

SUICIDE IS PREVENTABLE YOU CAN SAVE A LIFE

1 Lock Up

Simply adding a gun lock to a firearm or storing medications in a locked space can prevent suicide by firearm or drug overdose.

2 Limit Access

Dispose of expired or excess medications appropriately. Limit the amount of prescription medications on hand, and keep them in a secure place.

3 Know What to Do

In a crisis, follow the ACE guidelines. Ask if they are thinking of killing themselves, Care for them by staying with them, Escort them to SIO, Chain of Command, or Director of Psychological Health as soon as possible.
